INDUSTRIAL LSO TRAINING
Lasers are used in a wide variety of industrial manufacturing operations. Laser processes such as laser cutting, drilling and welding of metals and other materials present unique hazards to the eye and skin that must be controlled. This course will address these hazards in detail and present methods of how to minimize these hazards. In addition, OSHA and other federal regulations and consensus standards will be presented that address the issue of laser safety from a regulatory perspective.

IN-HOUSE LASER SAFETY TRAINING

LASER SAFETY OFFICER
LIA’s Laser Safety Officer course is designed to teach the administrative duties of the LSO as described in the ANSI Z136.1 Safe Use of Lasers standard. With a focus on safety program development and administration, the course covers lasers and optics, applications, laser bioeffects, hazard analysis, non-beam hazards and control measures.

LASER SAFETY AWARENESS
The ANSI Z136.1 Safe Use of Lasers standard states, “training shall be provided to each employee routinely working with or potentially exposed to Class 3B or Class 4 laser radiation”. The LIA can bring this laser safety training to your facility. This course will cover specular and diffuse reflections, bioeffects, non-beam hazards, laser system classification, and control measures. Train all your laser area personnel at one time so they are on the same page.
